Starters are generally to pitch until fatigued, generally. If Rye is behind by 4 or more runs, leave the starter stapled to the mound until he is pounded out.

Bullpen

Will Smith is the “closer” for Rye. He gets one inning save attempts.

Wittgren, Lyons, Ramos and Hughes share the 6th, 7th and 8th for this month, or earlier if Rye is still in the game (i.e. less than four runs down). Use these four relievers regularly to get the bumps. Tonkin is the mop, and is expected to get lots of innings. If Rye is down by 4 or more runs, bring Tonkin in and staple him to the mound until pounded out.

Don't worry about innings. I'll worry about that.

Offense

Hit and Run – Rye wants to use the H&R this year. We have nine guys with 2 -31's. With one of them up, a guy on first and 0 or 1 out, consider the H&R with a net steal number of 24 on first. We have nine guys who may have a net steal number of 24, so this is going to happen a fair amount. Look for it. If ahead or behind by 2 or more, don't use the H&R.

Stealing – Generally, use the H&R instead. But, in a close game, Rye's new youthful team has nine guys who can steal bases. Particularly Nunez. He needs to run. Set him loose.

Base Advances – Use the Adams Tables.

Bench –There is lots of bench here. In close games, please look to pinch hit. Don't let the hugely negative hit late in close games. I'm going to manage by plate appearances, not games. So, use the bench. Pinch run with our base stealers if down 1 or 2 in the 7th on in an attempt to manufacture a run, if the situation warrants it.

Defensive Replacements – Late in the game with a one run lead, get 2 OFers in, and Tomlinson can be brought in to play 2B.

Good luck and have fun. Anything not covered by these sparse instructions, use your best judgment.

Rye's season is over before it has begun, but the fan(s) demand that the team plays to win.
