Except for Trevor Williams, starters are generally to pitch until fatigued or otherwise reduced in grade.

Trevor Williams is to be pulled when the potential third run is on base. He has three caddies – see bullpen below.

Bullpen

From April through July this team has a superb bullpen.

Houser (24*) is the closer for all one inning save opportunities (i.e. Rye ahead by 1 to 3 runs). I am looking for 7 or more save opportunities a month for him until he goes into the starting rotation mid-year. Workman (29*) is the setup man for one or two innings in close games. Workman makes us nervous when the bases are loaded, so generally avoid having him pitch with the bases full. Wittgren and Walden are the 6th and 7th inning guys. Hughes, Ranger Suarez and Alcantara are the long relievers, mops, and caddies for Trevor Williams. Ranger Suarez is the only lefty, so use him as a LOOGY, unless he is busy caddying.

Generally, relievers are to pitch less than 2 2/3 innings per game.

Through the 7th inning, go to the pen regularly to maximize the 5 point bumps.

Offense

Hit and Run — With a batter with 2 -31's at the plate and a guy on first with 0 or 1 out, consider the H&R with a net steal number of 24+ on first. We have nine guys with a steal rating of 25 or higher, and who may have a net steal number of 24, so this is going to happen frequently. Look for it. Use it, please. If ahead or behind by 3 or more, don't use the H&R. With Abreu or Ozuna at the plate and 0 or 1 outs with a man on first, the hit and run needs to be considered, as they have 3 and 4 24's respectively. Use the H&R in those circumstances with a 24+ SSN baserunner.

Stealing - With two outs and Smith or DeShields on first, steal rather than hit and run. With one out and one of them on second, either of them can consider stealing third in a close game. If a tying or winning run is needed late with 0 or 1 out, Smith or DeShields can steal second and third, depending upon the catcher's arm and the pitcher's MF. Use your judgment. But consider the steal with good base stealers on base. If a tying or winning run is needed, consider bringing in DeShieldsor Smith as a pinch runner for any of the other players, and tell him to steal.

Last year, Rye was freaking out about wanting to run. This year, it's not so much, but there are still lots of opportunities.

Base Advances - Use the Adams Tables.

Bench –There is some bench here. In close games, please look to pinch hit. Don't let hitters with hugely negative splits hit in critical situations. Use your judgment, but look at the bench late in games to create an edge. Don't worry about playing time for guys who don't start. Smith and DeShields are the pinch runners/base stealers on the bench. Joe Musgrove (Sp 15) and Jeff Samardzija (Sp13) can pinch run when they don't start. Consider using them in close games.

Defensive Replacements – Late in the game with a one or two run lead move Merrifield to second base and Fletcher and Heredia to the outfield to maximize corner outfield arms. That's it.

Good luck and have fun. Anything not covered by these sparse instructions, use your best judgment.

In what is likely to be a reasonably close race, Rye is competing for a playoff spot. Rye will scramble to play to win every game, of course, and player usage should never be a constraint.
