Starters

It's ugly. Don't pull SP if reduced. Always let Burnes pitch until he must be pulled for fatigue. Irvin, Sampson, and Skubal can try for 6 or fatigue. The rest should go minimum of 5 and call on pen if game +/-4. Otherwise, leave them in as long as you can according to rules (i.e. pounding).

Relievers

We got some reinforcement. Just enough there for those close games to keep things respectable. I've generally got about 14 RIP on active roster for a 4 game series. Keep that in mind when managing usage across games. Avoid using a guy 3 games in a row when possible.

Early: Maton and Hill are early options depending on L/R stacks in event SP pulled.

Middle: Martin/Jimenez and Mayza/Poche are middle options to get into (or through) 7th.

 $\underline{\textit{Late}}$: Pressly can take setup duty (8th), with Barlow getting closer duty 9th inning (not limited to save opportunites) and extras if needed.

Hit & Run: Use sparingly late in close games w/ Berti, Turner, and Tucker on 1st only and Ward or Urias at the plate and they haven't burned up allotted steal attempt already.

Steals: Berti, Turner, and Tucker have green light to attempt steal for 2nd one game per series. Do not try for 3rd or home.

Sacrifice: We're not using this play this season.

Pinch Hitting/Running: Our bench is sparse and managing multiple platoons, so no late moves to make on the road. We generally play it safe with our slow guys at all times and always like to be aggressive (but not foolish) with our fast guys. On the boards, use the Adams Chart for extra base advancement. In the computer, always send "well around" home and anyone 10+ speed home w/ 2 outs if game +/- 2. Try for an extra base on OF throws home with anyone 15+ speed and game is within 4 runs.

DEFENSE...

Positioning: Leave the defense back at regular depth unless you absolutely think it's necessary.

Injury/Defensive Subs: Do what makes sense to you in case of injury. We'll adjust back home. No defensive substitutions to make on the road this season.

Note: I will email series specific contingencies at the beginning of each month, so check your inbox before playing Misellaneous...

We're playing things loose in our maiden voyage this season and the instructions are intended to reflect this approach, so forgive the simplicity. We expect more bad than good this season, but most importantly we're in learning mode. If you see something that can be improved, please feel free to share your take. There are a lot of things that I'll pick up through the course of getting acquainted with you all. The things you point out about oversights, mistakes, league nuances, etc. will all get incorporated over time.

Use the above as a general framework to run the Gamblers and when in doubt – just use your gut and move on. If it makes baseball sense and helps keep us in a game, we're all for it.

Best of luck!

Rob
